About Sukkot

Sukkot is a festive, week-long holiday celebrating gratitude, nature, and community. Families and friends gather in temporary outdoor huts, called a sukkah, to eat, socialize, and appreciate life's simple joys. ("Sukkot" is the plural form of sukkah.) During the holiday, foods filled with plenty of fall flavor are served to symbolize abundance and gratitude. This joyful festival encourages everyone to slow down, reconnect with nature, and embrace hospitality by welcoming guests into their sukkah. It's a reminder to celebrate life, even its fleeting moments.

The logo for Zeidler's Café is a white circular emblem with the name "Zeidler's" in a serif font above "Café" in a sans-serif font. The background of the lower half of the page is a wooden surface decorated with Sukkot symbols: a sprig of olive branches, a sprig of wheat, and a bright yellow lemon.
